

ARREST OF ALLEGED SLAYER, WANTED HERE, IS NEAR

INDICTMENT OF LEOPOLD, LOEB VOTED BY JURY

Confessed Slayers of Young Franks Held Without Bail

Chicago, June 5.—Two indictments charging Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, post graduate students and sons of millionaires with the kidnapping for ransom and murder of Roberts, school boy, which they have confessed, were returned by the county grand jury today.

Both youths were ordered held without bail by Chief Justice Caverly of the criminal court. Kidnaping for ransom and murder each is a capital offense in Illinois with a minimum penalty of five years in prison for kidnaping for ransom and 14 years for murder.

The prisoners were indicted jointly. Twenty-seven counts. The murder indictment contained eleven counts and the kidnapping indictment 16 counts.

Several witnesses gave testimony on which the grand jury based the indictments. With the state preparing for an early trial—the prosecution may ask for trial on July 15—the next step in the prosecution will be arraignment of the two youths, probably next Monday.

How Leopold and Loeb planned for months to kidnap for ransom and kill for excitement some rich man's son was disclosed in their confessions, made public by State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe after the grand jury indicted them.

Every detail planned. Every detail of the crime was carefully planned long before it was perpetrated. The confession related how, with the victim slain and his body covered by an automobile robe in the rear of their rented car, the slayers stopped at a restaurant and ate sandwiches before the burial.

Extreme care had been taken that there might be no slip. "The process of getting the money was the most difficult problem," Leopold's confession said.

"The next problem was the system of notification. We had a plan of a number of relays. The victim's father was to receive a phone call instructing him to go to a refuse box and there he was to get a note instructing him to proceed to a drug store and wait near the phone booth. The store was to be near the railroad tracks and he was to be given only time to rush out to the depot and board a through train without having time to notify detectives.

"In the train he was to proceed to the rear of the car where the telegram blanks were kept and there he was to be instructed to go to the back platform and throw the box as far east as he could.

Problem of Victim. "The next problem was to get the victim. We decided to take the most likely looking subject that came our way and it was Robert Franks. Richard called him over and then asked Robert to go for a ride.

"I got in the car then and stepped on the gas and we proceeded. As we turned the corner Richard put one hand over his mouth and bent him on the head. Richard pulled a gag into his mouth. We proceeded south along the boulevard and rode to the road leading to Gary. We even stopped to buy a couple of sandwiches.

"We proceeded toward Hegewisch. We left the shoes at the side of the road in the grass. When we reached our destination we put the body down on the grass and removed the robe of the clothes and poured acid on the face to make identification more difficult. We carried the body to the drain pipe and pushed it in as far as we could. We carried the robe with the clothes to the automobile which was about 300 yards away.

Called Franks Home. After returning to the city, Leopold said, he called the Franks home. "I told Mrs. Franks that I was George Johnson and that her son had been kidnapped and was safe and that instructions would follow. We mailed a special delivery letter which we had complete except the address."

WILL M. CRESSY
AT THE
REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Will M. Cressy, famous humorist, is "covering" the Republican convention for The Dixon Evening Telegraph. He arrived early and here's his first preliminary story. He'll be in Cleveland throughout the whole show, furnishing a story each day.

By WILL M. CRESSY

And now I am a comic war correspondent. I had always heard that this newspaper business was just one darned thing after another. But this is one thing in front of another. I never saw a political convention in my life. I don't know anything about politics. In fact I have never voted but twice. And then Grover Cleveland was elected both times. And I quit. I was too influential.

SEVERE STORM IN CENTER OF STATE FATAL

Washout South of Galesburg Fatal to Engine Men.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Decatur, Ill., June 6.—Reports reaching here of the severe storm that swept central Illinois Thursday evening tell of one death and severe property damage. Virgil Page, 12 year old son of Herman Page, four miles north of Tower Hill, Ill., was crushed to death in a shed which fell on him when he took refuge in it from the storm. His body was found last night in the wreckage.

At Bement, Ill., houses were unroofed, telephone and power wires swept down, the property damage being considerable. At Shelbyville, Ill., there was also considerable property damage and some live stock killed. Throughout a wide territory there were sheds, houses and barns damaged.

KILLED IN WASHOUT.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Galesburg, Ill., June 6.—Engineer W. C. Manuel, of Galesburg and Fireman W. F. Zimmerman of Quincy were killed last night when a C. B. & Q. freight train was wrecked near Vermont, Ill., on the Galesburg division of the railroad. The wreck was due to a washout, caused by a heavy rain storm, according to early reports reaching here.

Later reports said the two men were killed when a bridge over Waller Creek collapsed as the train was crossing it. The engine and first car had crossed the bridge when the structure gave way pulling the locomotive and cars on both sides down the creek below. It was several hours before rescue crews were able to reach the body of Engineer Manuel which was in the water under the wreckage.

Zimmerman was alive when found and was rushed to a Macomb hospital but died a short time after arriving there.

The bodies were taken to Vermont for an inquest this noon. Manuel was a veteran of the Spanish-American war. He has been in the service of the Burlington since leaving the service of the army in 1901.

Coolidge Says Former Governor is Acceptable to Him.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Cleveland, O., June 6.—The vice presidential nomination as good as settled with the word that former Governor Lowden of Illinois will be acceptable to President Coolidge, the convention managers today devoted themselves to clearing up last minute arrangements.

The few delegate contests remaining before the national committee for decision were on their way to being disposed of before night. So far as the pre-convention managers can see, nothing has arisen to upset their plan for adjournment Thursday.

The growing sentiment for Lowden for second place, culminating in the word that his nomination would be agreeable to President Coolidge, the assurance that the name of Senator Hiram Johnson would not even be presented to the convention and the possibility that Senator LaFollette may not be formally placed in nomination, all have combined to smooth out the convention program and to assure that the session will be a brief and harmonious one as the leaders desire.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Cleveland, O., June 6.—President Coolidge has passed the word that former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois will be acceptable to him as his running mate. "There is every reason to believe that Mr. Lowden, who was the choice of the old line party leaders for first place in 1920, will not resist a draft."

This word came to Cleveland today and crystallized the sentiment already running strong toward Lowden. It was made plain that President Coolidge, in disclosing his approval of Lowden, had not departed from his hands off policy and was still leaving it to the convention so long as no attempt was being made to put on a running mate to represent the insurgent wing of the party. The President was carefully pointed out, was simply making it known that he would regard Lowden as very acceptable if the convention chose to pick him.

Drowns Dawes Talk.
All this fitted in with a rapidly rising tide for the former Illinois governor, which today had entirely drowned out the talk for Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, and put Secretary Hoover out of the running, if he ever was in it, for Mr. Hoover had publicly declared he did not want the place.

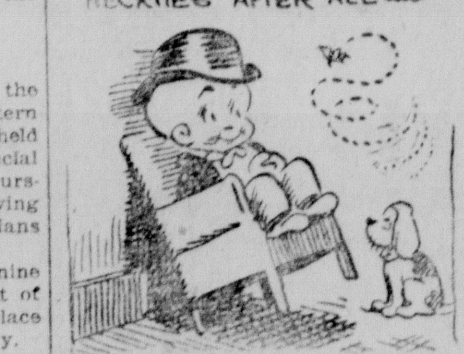

Delegates and committeemen arriving from the states of the northwest, where the La Follette strength is openly admitted as a factor to be reckoned with rather than to be dismissed lightly, added to the rapidly growing sentiment for Lowden. They declared that Lowden was the man who could do the ticket most good in the great agricultural states west of the Mississippi and who would draw strength from the rural vote which otherwise might be attracted elsewhere.

If the committeemen and delegates

Former Governor of Illinois Seems Sure to be Coolidge's Running Mate

Associated Press dispatches from Cleveland, O., today are to the effect that the vice-presidential nomination in as good as settled with the word that former Governor Lowden of Illinois will be acceptable to President Coolidge as his running mate. STARTED POURING CEMENT ON ROUTE TWO ON THURSDAY

Work Between Amboy and Dixon is Progressing Satisfactorily.

Amboy, June 6.—Work on the new hard road between Amboy and Dixon is progressing rapidly. The grading on this stretch of route 2 is not heavy and a large amount of it has been completed.

The Conway Construction Company have all their apparatus in place and started to pour concrete yesterday. The outfit consists of a huge 5-sack mixer with a delivery bucket which makes it possible to deliver the concrete evenly to all parts of the road, and a mechanical leveler and tamper. The tamper which follows the mixer and finishes the pavement moves on a truck which at the same time serves the purpose of a form for the concrete. Both machines operate under their own power. There are also in the outfit a light grader and a roller to keep the grade smooth and hard in front of the mixer as it moves along.

Water is furnished to the mixer by pump and pipe line; the water coming from the small creek at the end of the stretch being poured. On account of a delay in the construction of the small bridge about one-half mile north of the end of the present 2 1/2 mile stretch of old pavement, the Construction Company intends to build from the bridge near the Dubois farm home northwest toward Dixon, before working on the south end nearer to Amboy as was the original plan.

Once the pouring process is in full swing it is expected that between 500 and 800 feet of pavement will be completed each day. Material is being hauled to the mixer from the C. & N. W. "cut off." Huge hopper trucks are loaded with the proper proportions of gravel, sand and cement, enough for two batches in the mixer. This eliminates the piling of the sand and gravel along the road and speeds up the work greatly.

Good Progress South of Amboy.
On the road south of Amboy the grading work has been completed from the bridge over Green river south to a point just north of the new bridge near the Reinhold place. This part of the road is all on "new location" and has required considerable cutting and filling. Thursday the grading gang moved to the south of the new bridge and commenced grading near the Schumberger farm.

The outfit that is now completing

CURLEY WILSON NOT LOCATED BY OFFICIALS

Wanted for Murder of Nelson on Night of December 6, 1918

Sheriff Elliott C. Risley today is awaiting word from the west which he expects will result in the arrest of Hampton "Curley" Wilson, alias Williams, for whom he holds a bench warrant issued out of the Lee county circuit court charging him with the murder of George Bush, colored, at Nelson on the evening of Dec. 6, 1918. The information was furnished Sheriff Risley by the Evening Telegraph several days ago and an investigation has been quickly conducted which it is expected will result in the arrest of the murder suspect late today.

In a western city where there is a large colored settlement, Sheriff Risley learned last night, there are three men who are known under the name of "Curley" Wilson. Some of these are also using the name of Williams. The sheriff at that place telegraphed Sheriff Risley last night for a complete description of the man who is wanted here, and this was furnished at once.

Companions Convicted.
Wilson, with two other negroes, Lucas and Johnson, were alleged to have called a fourth man, George Bush, also colored, from the round house in the Nelson yards on the night of Dec. 6, 1918, and to have shot him down from ambush. Lucas and Johnson were captured at Hannibal, Mo., and brought back to Dixon where they were tried and convicted and sentenced to death, their sentence later being commuted, and are now serving time in the state penitentiary at Joliet.

Wilson succeeded in making his escape and was thought to be in hiding in Kansas City, but thus far has been unsuccessful in eluding officials. A reward of $200 was offered by the Lee county board of supervisors for his arrest.

Rowlands Bought Drug Store of Rochelle Man

A. A. Rowland of this city has purchased the stock and fixtures and taken a lease covering several years on the L. J. Pelek drug store at Rochelle. He will be assisted by Richard L. Holland, also a graduate of the Iowa university, who has been employed in Chicago. The formal opening will be held Saturday, June 14. The many friends of Harold in Dixon and vicinity will join in wishing him every success in the business which he took over today. The new Rochelle drug store is the son of Dixon and Mrs. A. A. Rowland of this city and is a graduate of the Dixon high school.

Tried to Take Own Life After Wife Left

Despondent because of the disappearance of his 22-year-old wife, Thursday afternoon, and other domestic troubles, Normy Wells, 40, tried to end his life last night by inhaling illuminating gas at Rockford. Attending physicians said that Wells absorbed a large quantity of the gas and that his chances for recovery cannot be determined before tomorrow.

Locking himself alone in his home and closing all windows last night, Wells attached one end of a rubber tube to a gas plate jet in the kitchen and placed the other end in his mouth. When partially overcome by the gas he staggered into an adjoining room and fell across the bed, the open filling the house with gas during the remainder of the night.

THE TWO LIGHTS—

A stock market wizard said at a dinner in New York:
"Oil stocks go down, steel stocks go up. There are two lights—a good one and a bad one—by which to look at every situation."

"God bless woman!" said a philanthropic optimist. "She is like the ivy on the ruined wall—the more dilapidated you become, the more she clings to you."

"Yes, God bless her," grunted a misanthropic pessimist. "The more she clings to you, the more dilapidated you become."—Exchange.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—

Covers and Curtains.
Wash your cretonne covers or curtains in warm water in which soap and bran water are mixed.

Saves Labor.
Wash every pan and kettle as soon as it is emptied, while it is still warm and the food has had no time to stick, and half the labor of dish-washing will be saved.

Cleaning Bottles.
You can clean glass water bottles very easily if you let soapy water and coffee grounds stand in them for a while, then shake thoroughly before you wash and rinse.

Keeps Cake Moist.
An apple in your cake box will keep your cake nice and moist. As soon as there are any spots of decay, replace the apple with a perfect specimen.

Keeps Range Clean.
Always wipe the top of your range all over after cooking greasy food, and you will help polish it as well as keep it clean.

Turpentine Handy.
Keep turpentine on hand in your bathroom to keep the washbasin and tub free from spots.

Makes Glass Sparkle.
Add bluing to the soapsuds in which you wash your glass and crystal. It will make it sparkle.

Add Borax to Starch.
Borax will whiten starch and give it a permanent stiffness because it penetrates the fabric more thoroughly.

TO MOVE TO SULLIVAN, ILL.
Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Reed of Mendota visited in Dixon Sunday. Mrs. Reed was formerly Miss Alice Krug of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Reed intend to move from Mendota to Sullivan, Ill., where Mr. Reed will follow his business as a florist, having purchased a business there.

ANOTHER WOULD LIMIT ARMAMENTS.
Los Angeles, June 5.—Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in biennial session here announced today she would ask the convention to petition President Coolidge to call a new "international conference of world forces to further limit armaments."

Held Annual Lowden Picnic

The Lowden annual picnic took place Friday, May 30th, at the Lowden home farm on the beautiful Rock river.

The lilacs in bloom, together with one of the finest spring days we have had, helped the tenants of the Sinnissippi farms, numbering 80 in all, spend a most enjoyable outing.

In addition to the well filled lunch baskets brought by the picnicers, hot coffee, lemonade and ice cream in abundance was furnished by Mrs. Lowden.

The greased pig contest was enthusiastically greeted by the young boys. Edward Fritz, after a lot of grasping and slipping, finally captured the pig.

A ball game between the married and single men took place, the married men showing the younger men that they are still holding their own.

Henry C. Roethig, a magician from Chicago, entertained with sleight of hand stunts which were very much enjoyed by all. Louis Tops, with his clever monkey and Topsy the dog, delighted the children and their parents by their performance.

At 4 o'clock the picnicers went homeward, having spent a most enjoyable day, although all regretted the fact that Ex-Governor Lowden found it impossible to attend.

Wedding of Two Popular Young People

At high noon Wednesday at the Holy Trinity Lutheran church at Elgin, Ill., the marriage of Miss Evelyn Feldkirchner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Feldkirchner of Franklin Grove, to Harold Melling of Ashton was solemnized, Rev. H. Corey, pastor of the church, officiating.

The impressive double ring ceremony was used. The bridesmaid was Miss Bessie Feldkirchner, sister of the bride, and the best man was Allen Coffman, both of Chicago.

The bride was becomingly dressed in a white satin gown with trimmings of lace and a bridal veil. Her flowers were a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

A wedding dinner was served at the Y. M. C. A. in Elgin.

The happy couple left on their honeymoon to be spent at the Dells in Wisconsin.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Melling will make their home at 48 West Pine street, Chicago.

The bridegroom is employed at the Western Electric Co. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Feldkirchner, Mrs. Melling, mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Charlotte Melling and daughter of Ashton, Mrs. Andrew Butler and daughter of Franklin Grove, Bessie, Olive and Everett Feldkirchner and Allen Coffman of Chicago; Mrs. James Feldkirchner, Mr. and Mrs. John Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Wadsworth and daughter of Dixon.

The S. F. O. club was formed by seven little maids when but six years of age. The letters famous throughout their school years, stood for the title, (always a secret till now), Seven Fluffy Owls, taken from a little poem, which fascinated the girls while reading it. The club membership gradually widened but never included more than the most intimate of friends. The little club did much good in its way, but one thing they NEVER divulged was the meaning of the initials, S. F. O.

The dinner last evening, therefore proved an exceptionally enjoyable affair, with many happy reminiscences.

Delightful Dinner at Coppins Home

Last evening Mrs. Dwight Chapman and sister, Miss Alice Coppins, entertained with a elegant four-course dinner at the Coppins home, honoring Miss Sue Patrick, bride of tomorrow and her fiancé, Cademus Pope, of Athens, Ga. The guests numbered twenty, being members of the S. F. O. club, their escorts, and a few other guests. Mrs. Archie Behrens, (nee Ruth Remington) and Miss Margaret Kling were the members of the club not able to be present. The memory of one ever dear to all present, who was one of the most enthusiastic in the girl's pleasures of the little club formed in childhood, is that of Mrs. John Beavers, formerly Miss Belle Read, who passed away a few years ago.

The S. F. O. club was formed by seven little maids when but six years of age. McADOO AND DOHENY.

"It is McAdoo against the field," say those who have totaled the New York convention preliminary score, and find that Mr. McAdoo has more delegates pledged to him on the first ballot than any other one candidate.

"Why nominate a democrat who hasn't the slightest chance of winning the election?"
is the question voiced by not a few democratic leaders.

For it is very evident that Mr. McAdoo's reputed strength with the railway employes is not going to overcome the far more general feeling that the crown prince of the Wilson administration cooked his presidential goose between November, 1918, when he resigned from the cabinet, and March 4, 1921, when the Wilson term came to an end.

For consider what happened. Edward L.
Doheny testified before the senate committee investigating the oil leases that about a year after Mr. McAdoo resigned from the Wilson cabinet, "I employed the firm (Mc-Adoo, Cotton & Franklin) to represent us in Washington in connection with Mexican matters. . . Mr. McAdoo continued to represent us in that regard until the Mexican situation was practically completed; that is,
until the administration changed."

Mr. Walsh: "That is, he continued to represent you as long as Mr. Wilson's administration remained?"

Mr. Doheny: "So long as he was president, yes sir, and after that he didn't represent us in Washington any longer."

For of course Mr. McAdoo's influence in Washington, for which he was hired, was at an end when the Wilson administration was finished.

But, said Mr. Doheny, Mr. McAdoo continued to be held by the Doheny interests on a retainer of $25,000 a year; and this sum Mr. McAdoo continued to receive until his connection with the Doheny interests was revealed to a surprised and startled public last February, in the testimony before the senate committee. Then Mr. McAdoo threw over Mr. Doheny. Why? Mr. McAdoo, according to both Mr. Doheny and his own statement, had nothing to do with the California oil leases. Nevertheless he must have known about them—they were public property. But he did not see fit to sever his connection with Mr. Doheny until those leases had become a scandal, and his own highly-paid services to the Doheny interests were revealed. Then, in punic lest his presidential chances be jeopardized, Mr. McAdoo renounced Mr. Doheny and his annual $25,000. Mr. McAdoo slid out from under, just as he had slid out of the treasury and the director-generalship of the railways at the crucial moment of reorganizing the work of the one on a peacetime basis and unscrambling the others and handling them back to their owners.

These are facts which have injured Mr.
McAdoo in public estimation, and which, according to widespread opinion, have made his successful candidacy impossible. The strength indicated by his imposing list of delegates is manufactured and largely fictitious, since most of it comes from the "controlled" states in the democratic south.

TRAFFIC REGULATION.

"I think we would do well to try to bring about in our cities the appointment of an independent traffic commission. Traffic is and must be from now on less a matter of police regulation and more a matter of engineering," say Edward S. Jordan, automobile manufacturer.

Mr. Jordan made the foregoing observation after a study of conditions in his home city of Cleveland, Ohio. Accommodation of the person who desires to shop and can not find a parking place is the vexing problem.
Accommodating a few, the merchant finds his doors blocked to many buyers.
The problem is the smaller city's too, merely on a reduced scale. The suggestion of the auto maker that traffic handling is a question of engineering is to the point.

COOLIDGE ON THE WORLD COURT.

Coolidge's firm statement that he continues to be for the world court with certain reservations, as pronounced by President Harding, shows anew his absolute stand on what he believes to be the right course, irrespective of what may be the political reaction. Politicians may hold that it lessens his chances of re-election as president, and they will seek to use it against him. But the people while being against the league of nations do not want the United States to keep entirely aloof from world affairs. They want some tribunal that will make decisions on international questions and so lessen the chances of war.
While the president in his Memorial day address did not refer directly to the Lodge world-court plan, he covered it quite emphatically though briefly when he said that "any material changes which would not probably receive the consent of the many other nations would be impracticable." The Lodge proposal hedges about American membership in the court with many reservations such as would stand little or no chance of ratification by European nations, making it appear as though it were intended to defeat the whole proposition.

BROTHER BRYAN WILL BE THERE.

William Jennings Bryan expects to be at the convention which meets in Madison Square Garden early in July. It might be well for the gentlemen who are busy preparing for this event to remember that Brother Bryan is coming. Always a fighter, the commoner has his fighting clothes on most of the time these days. When he is not battling with evolution, he is busy pummeling the wets. Moreover, Bryan never appears at a better advantage than at the big quadrennial pow-wow of his party. One does not have to wear a prophet's mantle to predict that any attempt to nominate a moist candidate in the New York convention will be the occasion for the most glorious fight in Bryan's long fighting career.

Franklin D. Roosevelt is an exceedingly busy man these days booming Governor Al Smith for president. We have a suspicion that Mr. Roosevelt's dreams are troubled these nights, and that occasionally he has a nightmare in which he sees the specter of the fighting face of W. J. B. and awakens to find himself in a cold, clammy sweat.

Yes, Brother Bryan will be there! And in his hand will be the leading strap of the dark horse he will hope to nominate.

These are the good old days we will be longing for a few years from now.

"Tomorrow is our wedding anniversary," he said to Nick, who waited upon him. "Ma and I have been married two years, and I want to buy her something nice. The only trouble is that I haven't much money."
Mister Jay Bird, the barber, happened to be in the store and heard every word. "Say," he said to Daddy, "I have an idea. I'd like to have a lot of hair to make a wig. Why not come to my barber shop and let me cut the hair off your tail and I'll pay you well for it. I'll give you twenty-five cents for all the hair on your tail, Daddy. Twenty-five cents! That's a lot of money."
"Yes, it is," said Daddy thoughtfully. "That's a lot of money, Mister Jay Bird. I believe that I'll do as you advise. The hair will grow on my tail again, won't it?"
"Of course it will, Daddy," said
Nick. "Why don't you take Mister Jay Bird's advice?"
"All right," said Daddy. "I'll do it.
Come along, Mister Jay. I'll go over to your barber shop with you, and you can give me a tail bob, or a bob tail, or whatever you call it. I'll get the twenty-five cents and get Ma a fine present for her anniversary present."
So away they went.
At that very minute the door of Mister Bags' store went tingling and in ran Mrs. Cracknuts in a great flurry.
"Oh, dear," she gasped. "This is afraid Daddy will see me. Tomorrow is our anniversary and I want to give him a nice present. It's to be a surprise."
Mister Bags wrapped up the brush
and Daddy took it home.
When he opened the door, Mrs.
Cracknuts took one look at his tail
and cried, "Daddy!"
And Daddy took one look at his wife's shorn coat and cried, "Ma!"
Then both of them laughed and laughed and laughed.

Letter from John Alden Prescott to Leslie Prescott

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN
PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

DEAREST:

I miss you, miss you, dear, very much, and I think you might have written me more than one letter. I don't want you to get into those morbid feelings that you wrote me about.
You're not going to leave little Jack and me. If you did we would both troit right after you and bring you back, no matter if you had sailed across the River Styx.
Between you and me, dear, I do not believe that Dick Summers will ever marry Paula Perier. In the first place, I don't think Paula will ever marry any man except he be one of great wealth; and, secondly, I do not think she wants to marry now.
She is too much taken up with her work.
That was rather a smart epigram
of Sally Atherton's, wasn't it, dear, to the effect that "hypocrisy is the attribute that animals take on with their souls." She is a very bright woman, and she amuses me more than I can tell you. You bet I won't let her go back to your father if I can keep her, for I don't mind telling you that I don't think by any possibility I would have gotten that last million and a half advertising contract if it hadn't been for her copying!
Don't let Alice get your goat. I like you plump. I never liked these skinny women; and whatever men may enjoy in the women who vamp them they certainly do not enjoy their wives to be anything less than a comfortable sort of a woman, a woman whose very figure invites you to restfulness and repose.
I don't believe, however, that you've gained more than five pounds since we were married, and I thought if anything you were a little thin then.
You're just exactly right, dear. I wouldn't have you lose an ounce.
I don't quite understand how Alice got that way, for Englishmen are proverbially less attractive to a woman's wants than American men.
I think she was decidedly catty when

Don't let constipation make you an invalid—relieve it with Kellogg's Bran

Few people realize how dangerous is constipation until this dread disease tears down their health. Did you know that more than forty serious diseases can be traced to constipation?

Keep your health, or restore it, with Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. It brings relief in mild and chronic cases of constipation. It is effective because it is ALL bran. That is why it is recommended so highly by doctors. They know that only ALL bran can bring 100 per cent results.
Part bran is, at best, only a halfway measure.
If eaten regularly Kellogg's Bran will bring permanent relief—even in the most chronic case. It is guaranteed to do so. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Because it is ALL bran it sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine.
Like nature, it acts naturally. It makes the intestine function regularly.
Eat it every day—two tablespoonfuls—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream.
Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Enjoy it in those wonderful recipes given on every package.

The flavor of Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is delicious. It is crisp, nut-like. Quite different from ordinary bran, which is so unpalatable. Kellogg's Bran is made in Battle Creek and served by the leading hotels and clubs everywhere. Sold by all grocers.

he will take hold of my fingers like particle of fear as long as I have him.

I hope I shall never lose his

ARCH PRESERVER SHOE

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Baxter, who are hiking around the world, in Arch Preserver Shoes, visited Dixon Thursday.

In today's paper you will see the story of these interesting people. To meet and converse with them is to obtain a small but highly interesting glimpse into their "great adventure."

But what people of Dixon will be pleased to hear is the fact that the hikers wear Arch Preserver Shoes.

After trying almost every conceivable kind of walking boot or shoe the Baxters finally discovered the famous Arch Preservers, and have become devoted enthusiasts of these "silent partners" which they vow, "keep their feet well" and comfortable.

Successful Care of Growing Chicks During the Summer

By HORTON B. GREEN

The tardy coming of warm weather or even mild spring weather has been quite detrimental to the well being and development of young chicks thus far for this season, however, where good brooder houses have been used fairly good results have been realized. More and more the properly constructed brooder house with a good stove in it is coming into favor with those who use them with care. I was recently at a place where they were using a brooder house with a coal stove for the first time. They put 500 baby chicks into which they had purchased from a hatchery a few weeks since and were a fine healthy bunch, indeed, and promise to become profitable as broilers from the cockerels and early layers from the pullets.

Health, vigor and growth are the chief essentials in maturing the chicks from this time on until the cockerels are ready for market and the pullets are ready to condition for laying in the early fall.

Chicks for market should be sold as soon as they reach two pounds each; smaller than that are not usually wanted. The first pound that you put on a chick is put on at a lower cost than any other succeeding pound. After the first two weeks a chick can be fed on a ration consisting of equal parts of corn and oats ground together and bran or bean and shorts; these should be well mixed together and kept in a self feeder before them all the time.

In addition to this dry mash, they may be fed before going to roost all they will eat or coarse meal or cracked corn and a little wheat. These rations are as good as any that can be used and nothing is more economical. On this ration the first pound at current prices of grain can be put on a chick for from eight to nine cents. If your chick costs or is valued at 16 cents at hatching, it will cost 25 cents when weighing one pound at about six weeks of age. The second pound will cost from ten to twelve cents, or 35 cents when weighing two pounds at 19 to 12 weeks of age. It should bring in June as bought by the shipper, 23 cents to 35 cents per pound, which would give

Plumber Thought
He Needed New Pipes

"My stomach and intestines were always full of gas and I often had severe colic attacks. The pain and soreness caused me to think I needed a new set of pipes. Since taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy all this has disappeared and my only trouble now is to make enough dough to buy all the food I'd like to eat." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all drugists.

"My stomach and intestines were always full of gas and I often had severe colic attacks. The pain and soreness caused me to think I needed a new set of pipes. Since taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy all this has disappeared and my only trouble now is to make enough dough to buy all the food I'd like to eat." you a profit or pay for your labor, of 20 to 40 cents each. Of course 20 cents profit on one chick seems small by itself, but when you have 100 to 500 the amount comes in handy to meet feed bills in maturing the 100 or 500 pullets left for laying purposes.

Now these pullets are what we are after, the cockerels being merely incidental. On the farm with free range the pullets may be developed to the laying age for about 50 cents each. Add to that the value or cost of the baby chick and you have a pullet ready to lay in October, actually worth two dollars. The value of this pullet is the solution of the problem of why give so much attention to the growing chick?

I do not believe that a farmer should buy high priced feed, the corn, oats, bran mash and cracked corn and wheat are all raised on the farm and should be ground there, thus getting your feed at first cost. I find that a good many poultry raisers seem to think that they are economizing in feed by giving their chicks as much as they want, but instead of this method being a means of saving, it is really an expensive policy and one that you cannot afford to practice. Baby chicks should be fed sparingly for the first few weeks, the dry mash should be where they can run to it all the time and the cracked corn and wheat given them generously in the evening before going to roost.

Their sleeping quarters should be dry, comfortable and free from draft, easy to be cleaned and well ventilated. It is better to clean where they roost every day, but at least three times a week.

Close out all your young cockerels as soon as they reach two pounds each, except such as are exceptionally fine and well bred, which you may want for breeders. Keep the pullets on the corn-oats, bran mash and cracked corn and wheat grain ration until they are fully five months old. Do not try to force laying. Six months is young enough for medium sized breeds to begin laying and, five months for small breeds. When they approach the laying age give either plenty of sour milk or meat scrap or tankage and continue to feed such stimulating feed all winter, until green grass comes again. A field of rye sown in September close to the winter quarters of the pullets will very materially add to the yield of eggs during the fall and winter and the rye about heading time is worth many times its cost to plow under for a cover crop.

The Nelson school closed Monday after a very successful year. Four boys, namely, Alvin Bartholomew, Earl Peterson, William Ortgiesen and Lawrence Blaisdell were the graduates. The exercises were held at Dixon, May 30. Many from Nelson were present. A social and ice cream supper was held at the school house, Monday evening, June 2. The attendance was rather small on account of bad weather but all who did attend report a most enjoyable time.

Miss Blanche McGinnies and Mrs. Bessie Gale have both been engaged for another year.

CUBS SHOWED UP GIANTS IN FIRST GAME IN THE EAST

Gave New York Fans a Chance to Look Over "Surprise Team."

By Associated Press Licensed Wire
Dogging the heels of their metropolitan rivals, the Boston Red Sox and the Chicago Cubs, the surprise teams of the 1924 season are threatening the existence of the four-time pennant for Managers McGraw and Huggins.

Fate entered into the American League argument yesterday when the Yankees forced into idleness by dampened atmosphere, pulled into a tie with the Red Sox when the Browns defeated Boston, 5-2.

Conscious that the Yankees were idle, the Red Sox swung Howard Ehmke their mound ace, into the ring, but the Stier tribe took a most unexpected liking to Ehmke's slants.

Cubs Topped Giants
The Cubs toppled the Giants. McGraw dispatched four relievers to the mound, offered up a trio of pinch hitters and even swapped catchers for luck. Vic Keen found the going rough, but splendid support and timely hitting by the Cubs enabled him to weather the storm, Chicago winning 6-4.

The Dodgers and the Reds are jockeying for position in the race for third place in the National League. Both exterminated their rivals yesterday, the Dodgers winning from the Pirates, 6-2, thanks to Jake Fournier's timely circuit clout, the Reds blanking the Braves 6-0, Sheehan scoring his sixth victory of the season.

The Phillies gained on their seventh place rivals, the Cardinals, by halting them, 4-2.

Washington made a slight impression in Detroit's lead over the Senators in the American League race by topping the Tigers in a free hitting contest, 9-7. Bassler's interference with Peckinpaugh's bat in the first inning for what would have been the third out, proved disastrous and the Senators took advantage by getting five more runs before the Bengals could quell the batting riot.

Two Aces Pounded
The Indians and Athletics engaged in an old fashioned slugfest in which the "ace" of each deck was pounded into submission, the Indians finally emerged victorious, 5-4.

Infielder Sand gave a great exhibition of short-stopping which helped the Phillies make it two out of three from the Cardinals.

Johnny Mokas hard hitting outfielder of the Phillies had a good day at bat, getting three hits in four times up and scored two runs.

Arnold Stutz, outfielder of the Cubs, yesterday drove out a homer and two singles and scored two runs.
Cliff Heathcote, speedy outfielder of the Cubs, stole home in the ninth inning. Jack Fournier, slugging first baseman of the Dodgers closed the gap between himself and Babe Ruth for home run honors by smashing out his 12th circuit blow. The home run king was 13.

THIRTEEN GOLF STARS BUNCHED IN TOURNAMENT

Anyone of Them Likely to Carry Off Title in Today's Play.

By Associated Press Licensed Wire
Detroit, Mich., June 6.—Thirteen golfers were within six strokes of each other in the contest for the national open golf championship, when the final 36 holes play was started today at Oakland Hills Country Club with the possibility that any one of them might finish the day's play with a score that would carry away the title.

Bobby Jones, Atlanta amateur, defending his title and Bill Mehlhorn of St. Louis were leading the four score golfers still in the tournament with 147 strokes for 36 holes.

Only one stroke behind this pair was Cyril Walker of New York, who twice played the links yesterday in 74. One stroke further back came Bobby Cruickshank of New York and Dave Robertson of Detroit, the former bent on duplicating his feat of last year of tying Jones for the title. Both Mehlhorn and Cruickshank scored a par 72 on the links yesterday, one stroke better than Jones' afternoon round. Another likely bidder for chief honors was MacDonald Smith of San Francisco who yesterday clipped three strokes off of par for the second time and Alie Espinosa also of San Francisco who set a course record of 71 in the afternoon and finished only four strokes behind the leaders at the halfway mark despite of an 80 in the morning.

Hagen in Good Position
Another contender who might easily surge to the front was Walter Hagen, former American and British open champion, who had a pair of 75's to his credit when he started today's rounds. The other stars who were in striking position for the lead were Tom Kerrigan and Mike Brady of New York with 152 each and Clarence Hachney, Atlantic City, James West and T. D. Armour of New York with 153 each.

Among those slightly behind the 13 leaders, but still in a position to gain advantage were Gene Sarazen of New York, champion two years ago, and Chick Evans, Chicago, who won both open and amateur crowns in 1916 with 154 each.

Among those who virtually lost their chances to wrest the title from Jones by poor play in the first two rounds after having been favored by many to win the title, were Jesse Guilford of Boston, the only eastern amateur entered who took 157 yesterday; Joe Kirkwood, New York, who had an 80 in the afternoon for 157 and Jack Hutchinson of Chicago, formerly British open champion who fell from his steady game yesterday further than he probably ever fell before, taking 163.

Large galleries watched the play, and paid admission totaling $8,700.

The Nut Cracker

by Joe Williams

STRAIGHT DOPE BENNY ON THE RADIO.

Black Gold has been going through racing fields this spring like a pair of loaded dice through a yoked's bank roll.

The triple-derby winner was born of poor but misguided parents and is as devoid of breeding as a wet toupee is of dandruff.

The Roughneck colt wears unaristocratic iron shoes, eats Plebian oats and slumbers in burgeois straw.

The fact that he was foaled in the equator of the tenements hasn't kept him down any more than Walter Johnson's fast ball has handicapped Washington.

Black Gold came galloping into the world without a pedigree but with plenty of speed, and whoever heard of a bookie paying off on pedigrees?

An aristocratic background may be all right but it will get you nowhere quick if you are lacking in uncouth ambition and common kitchen stove ability.

I don't suppose they built monuments to Abe Lincoln simply on account of his familiarity with salad forks and the swell way he wore his Prince Albert.

The Hohenzollern boys of Germany waded through sweet aristocracy up to their wide imperial ears every morning, and now look at them!

You'll probably find 'em under the bed still hiding.

In the game of life they don't ask you where you came from but where you are going and how fast you can make it.

Black Gold is more than just a four-legged boss; he's a symbol of the world's attitude toward success.

Which is this: Get there first and the berries are yours.

(Next week Straight Dope Benjamin will cut loose with an awful line of groceries and no foolin'.)

Mr. O'Rourke has three promising heavies in Price, Prestage and Ingelton, all of whom have promised to remember to get back on their feet, if possible, before the count of "ten."

It is said that Price is the best of the simple bunch, which may be like saying the Athletics are the best eighth place ball club in the American League.

One of the questions Professor O'Rourke puts to his advanced class in backward flopping is, "What is the stratagical thing to do on being knocked down?"

The answer is, of course, "Call for a guest pillow."

Another question is, "In boxing Dempsey is it advisable to conduct an aggressive or defensive battle?"

The answer is, "It is advisable to ignore the boulder entirely."

Mr. O'Rourke wants three Americans of about the same caliber of his pupils to visit England and engage in some sort of quaint quizzing exercises.

What an excellent chance for Fred Fulton if he had been born triplets!

Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another.—Rom. 14:19.

Peace rules the day where reason rules the mind.—Collins.

STAGE BEER RIOT.
MONTREAL.—Free Beer to All Callers," advertised a local brewery. And the next day brought 25,000 callers. Thirsty men, women with children in arms, cripples, and people in all walks of life stormed the doors of the brewery from morning to night. Many lost their hats and tore their clothes in the rush. Police reserves were called out.

CARD OF THANKS.
TEN CENTS PER LINE FOR
Evidently there are some who do not understand that Card of Thanks run in a newspaper is purely a personal matter and not news, and consequently something for which a charge is made in all papers. Seventy-five cents is the minimum price in the Telegraph, so if those wishing a card run would send the money with copy it would save all further annoyance.
DIXON EVENING TELEGRAPH.

AUTOS EXPENSIVE.
TOKYO.—Automobiles are genuine luxuries in Japan. A license for the cheapest kind of car costs about $300. Gasoline—heavily taxed—means an expense of approximately $1 a gallon.

Former Lee County Man Dead in Tacoma, Wash.

J. P. Covert of Tacoma, Wash., died suddenly at his home in that city, Thursday morning, according to word received by his brothers, P. A. and E. A. Covert of this city. The deceased was born in Nelson township and was 62 years of age at the time of his death. He left here about 38 years ago.

PERMIT GAMBLING.
ROME.—Limited gambling will be permitted by law in Italy. Games of chance will be allowed in a small number of recognized resorts, the cabinet has announced. But severe measures will be taken to keep the number of gambling houses low.
